OBITUARY

Chloe Davina Rose Johnston

Chloe Davina Rose Johnston, born Sept. 30, 2000 passed away suddenly, Friday, May 14, 2021. She was 20 years old.

Chloe was well known for her beautiful smile and her artistic abilities. She loved all the pretty things in nature, from hiking to collecting rocks. After collecting rocks, she loved to match them up to their names and researched them. She truly enjoyed being around her family and spending time with her parents, uncles, aunts, cousins, brother Derek, sister Kayla, and her niece Paisley who she referred to as "her baby".

Chloe was a very loving, caring, and sensitive person who cared for all beings. She loved attending Renaissance Festivals because it truly made her feel like she was in her place, where she belonged. She enjoyed watching the cartoon Steven Universe. She also loved escaping daily life to listen to music in the dark and just relax.

Chloe had ambitions to go school and be an artist. She dreamt of moving to San Diego to open an art studio, where she could create different art features which was her true passion.

Chloe is survived by her father, Jeremy; mother, Jenny; sister, Kayla; brother, Derek; her Papa, Ken; Grandma, Susan; and many uncles, aunts, nieces, nephew, and cousins. A Celebration of Life was held at the Elks Lodge on May 22, 2021.

Chloe is preceded in death by her Grandma Donna and Grandpa Donnie.

Chloe will be deeply missed by all who had a privilege of knowing and loving her.

"And I need you to know that every moment you love being yourself, that's me, loving you, and me loving being you."

Stage 1 fire restrictions are in effect in Pinal Rural Fire and Medical District

Extreme and exceptional drought status, dry fuels, an uptick in human fire starts, coupled with upcoming critical fire weather, prompts the Pinal Rural Fire and Medical District to implement fire restrictions.

Beginning May 13, 2021, at 8 a.m., PRFMD will implement Stage I Fire Restrictions in our Fire District including state-owned and managed lands.

"The goal of the fire restrictions is to protect public health by reducing the number of preventable human-caused wildfires. Restrictions will remain in effect until fire officials determine that conditions have changed sufficiently to reduce the risk of human-caused wildfire," said Bobby Apodaca, Fire Chief.

Stage I fire restrictions prohibit the following:

- Igniting, building, maintaining or using a fire, including charcoal and briquettes, outside a fire structure. Using charcoal or briquettes in a residence is never recommended.
- Smoking, except within an enclosed vehicle or building, a developed recreation site, or while stopped in an area at least three (3) feet in diameter that is barren or cleared of any flammable material.
- Discharging a firearm, except while engaged in a lawful hunt pursuant to state, federal, or tribal laws and regulations.

Beautiful Herbs in the Oracle Community Learning Garden

By Laurie Bryant

Oracle Community Learning Garden

Herb gardens are refreshing and fragrant. This is an introduction to some of the varieties available and how you might discover new types to try. People grow gardens for different reasons. Fragrant herb and pollinator gardens give us a chance to design areas throughout our yards to rest and enjoy the beauty, and to support our local pollinator insects.

Gardening in our desert climate presents certain gardening challenges, mainly hot sun and lack of water. At the Oracle Community Learning Garden, we have been successful in growing many different herbs. They need consistent watering, well drained soil and sun, sometimes shaded from the scorching sun in the summer. Their relatively small size lets us create a beautiful and fragrant area in our smaller gardens.

Many people have indoor herb gardens. The key to indoor herb gardening is finding the right location to provide enough natural sunlight. Natural sunlight actually improves the flavor of the herb.

Herbs in the mint family are relatively easy to grow. They are propagated by either seed, root divisions, or cuttings. These include some of the most popular and well-used herbs in our kitchen. Some of these we might not think of as “mints” like basil, oregano, marjoram, lavender, thyme and rosemary. You can keep a parent plant and start new plants for a constant supply of these favorites. But if you plant these in the ground and as companion plants in your garden, beware. Many of them will spread out and take over. It’s a good idea to grow the mint family plants in large containers with lots of root space.

Perennial herbs like lavender, oregano, sage, thyme, and rosemary can develop woody stems and need seasonal maintenance pruning to keep them vital and attractive. We often see entire hedges of rosemary growing in yards around here and I’ve seen them cut into charming bonsai shapes. There are many varieties of rosemary, and they taste slightly different. Some of them grow upright; others can make a nice ground cover. Make sure the variety you get meets your needs.

Basil is an annual and will shrivel up at the first signs of frost. It doesn’t spread like oregano or marjoram. There are many varieties and each has their own individual flavor. There is lemon, lime, cinnamon and Thai basil, to name just a few. Holy Basil is traditionally made into a tea for medicinal effects. Basil likes 6-8 hours of sunlight a day and protection from hot afternoon sun. Water the soil deeply when it feels dry to the touch. Pinch off basil flower buds and one or more pairs of leaves regularly, both for use in salads and pesto and to make the plants bushier.

Herbs in the parsley family are not only delicious in our kitchen, but provide a great habitat for pollinators. Dill, fennel and parsley plants attract Black Swallowtail butterflies. When I was growing parsley at the Mountain Vista School Garden, the kids were dismayed to see the plants covered with large green caterpillars with bands of light blue, black and yellow. I told them to watch and wait, because after the plant was eaten down to the ground, the shoots soon started to grow back. The caterpillars disappeared soon to return as the Black Swallowtail butterfly. My rule on this plant is to plant enough for everybody. Plant extra parsley plants!!!

Some ideas for using fresh herbs: Make a purée of basil, oregano or parsley leaves with olive oil, pine nuts or walnuts, garlic and spices. These leaves will often turn black if you freeze them but if you blend them first, you can freeze them in ice cube trays and use them to add to sauces as needed.

Make a delicious salad out of fresh basil leaves, fresh mozzarella, and tomatoes. Drizzle with oil and/or balsamic vinegar.

Melt butter and pour into ice cube trays. Add your favorite diced herbs and cool in refrigerator until solid. Serve these herbed butters with fresh hot bread or potatoes for a pretty, fragrant addition to your table.

Next time we’ll look at ways to harvest and dry the Ghost tours help preserve history

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

All Hallows Eve, Halloween and Dia de los Muertos – a time when we think of ghosts, goblins and the dead. It is a time of year when many ghost hunting groups and paranormal research teams conduct tours of old historical buildings or places alleged to be haunted. Some groups do it for entertainment purposes while others take the paranormal seriously and search for answers to help others who may be having issues with what they believe is a haunting or paranormal. One group does research to help others and even uses the public's interest in the paranormal to conduct tours with money raised by the tour going to help restore and maintain historical buildings.

AZ Ghost Tours was started by the AZ Paranormal Investigation & Research Society (AZPIRS) and CDP Investigations to help historical locations raise funds for restoration and upkeep. Paranormal events have raised thousands of dollars each year for old historical buildings such as the Orpheum Theater in Phoenix, 1910 Gila County Jail in Globe and the Acadia Ranch Museum in Oracle. AZ Ghost Tours hosts an event every second Saturday of the month at the 1910 Gila County Jail. The Tours are sponsored by G.H.O.S.T. (Ghost Hunters of Southern Tucson) Crew and AZPIRS.

This fundraising program works at any location. The program includes AZ Ghost Tours assisting you with organizing and running the event at your location. They provide two types of events. One includes a brief presentation on the history of the location as well as the claims of paranormal activity or evidence that has been captured. It is followed by the guests going on an actual investigation led by experienced paranormal investigators using the latest equipment.

The second type involves a workshop with the experienced paranormal investigators explaining basic paranormal investigation procedures

Free workshop for caregivers—brought to you by Rural Dementia Caregiver Project

Help rural caregivers connect to a new online workshop.

Millions of rural caregivers provide crucial support to family members or friends living with memory loss and dementia. These same caregivers often feel stressed and isolated. An online workshop may help them.

The University of California, San Francisco is conducting a study of a new online caregiver workshop. The project is funded by the National Institutes of Health. Caregivers may qualify if they:

- Live in a rural area
- Care for someone with memory loss
- Are 18 years of age or older
- Provide care for at least 10 hours per week

Caregivers who participate in the study of the workshop will be asked to complete four surveys on their caregiving experiences and will receive up to $80 in cash for doing so.

What does the online workshop offer?

The workshop is accessible to rural caregivers whenever they want it, day or night. It teaches caregivers new skills to reduce their stress, take better care of themselves, manage challenging behaviors of their care partners, and plan for the future. Caregivers also get a workbook to keep, support from other caregivers, and information on community resources.

How can caregivers and others learn more?

Interested caregivers can go to caregiverproject.ucsf.edu or call the toll-free number 1-833-634-0603 to get more information. Organizations that work in rural communities or have contact with caregivers can use that same contact information.

Victoria Zazueta, Genesis Dietz take top two spots for San Manuel Class of 2021

This year's graduating class of 2021 has faced a year like no other in the history of San Manuel High School.

The traditional school year never really started; instead, students attended entirely online. In spite of being taught remotely, students found new ways to adjust and kept the school spirit going.

Sports were different. Athletes had to learn how to participate wearing restrictive masks. Club gatherings were held via Zoom.

With all the obstacles, students persevered and thrived.

Victoria Zazueta, this year's valedictorian at San Manuel High School, and Genesis Dietz, the salutatorian, are the very embodiment of this perseverance.

Victoria is the daughter of Frank and Greta Zazueta. She is the only girl with four brothers, Cisco, Carlos, Daniel and Andres Zazueta.

Throughout her high school career, she has been involved in many different sports including cross country, basketball, softball and track. She has also been a part of several clubs on campus: Student Council, National Honor Society, AP Club, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Lettermans Club and the Ambassadors Club.

Victoria plans on attending the University of Arizona and majoring in Criminal Justice with a minor in computer science or psychology.

Genesis is the daughter of Mary Dietz and Pedro Cirino, Irma Dietz and Alex Dietz. She also has four siblings: Charly and Alexys Dietz and Elija and Layla Cirino.

She has played volleyball and basketball and was a member of the AP Club, National Honor Society and the Interact Club.

Genesis plans to attend the University of Arizona and major in pharmaceutical studies.

COVID-19 has dramatically changed our world. Attending school online is only one of the complications introduced by the disease. Both young ladies were asked how they see the impact that the pandemic made to their world.

"I think that graduating during these times has enabled all of us to see our world and surroundings in a different way," Victoria said. "Many of my fellow classmates took this time as an opportunity to better themselves or engage in something new that they fell in love with."

Genesis sees her classmates and herself making plenty of changes in the world.

"The graduating class of 2021 has proven their work ethic by just graduating," she said. "It's been very hard to keep motivation during these times and being able to walk across the stage and receive your diploma is a huge accomplishment in itself."

"I think a lot of my fellow classmates realized the potential that they have and will continue to strive in the future and hopefully impact our world in a positive way," Victoria said.

Genesis agreed.

"This year's 2021 graduating class will start and never stop to make great changes in this world."

High school has had its ups and downs for all students. There are things most graduates are ready to bid farewell to and some things that will be missed.

Victoria said she is mostly going to miss the competitiveness of the sports she played and "the people I was surrounded by during these sports." She said she is not going to miss the restrictions she had placed on her.

Genesis said she will miss the connections and relationships that develop during high school with classmates and teachers. "You become very close to these people and it's sad to see us graduate and all go our separate ways."

She said she definitely won't miss all the extra homework that was a result of being remotely taught.

"We were given a lot more work than usual," she said.

Both ladies are looking forward to the exploration that comes with college and learning who they are and who they want to be.

Looking forward 10 years, Victoria said she envisions herself doing something that makes her truly happy. "I see myself living my life exactly how it's supposed to be even if it's not what or how I planned it to be," she said.

Genesis sees herself as a successful pharmacist with a family. "I just want to live my best life no matter what happens," she said.

Both hope to see San Manuel flourish.

"I want my community to grow and become abundant. It would be nice for more businesses to open up and more people to come and join our town," Genesis said.

"I will return to my community for my family and to relive all my memories that I have had here," Victoria said.

Genesis said she's also come back for her family and because of her family's legacy.

"Everyone and their families from San Manuel have been here for decades," she said. "Everyone leave a tiny bit of themselves in this town."

Both ladies will be speaking at Thursday night's commencement ceremony, set for 7 p.m. at the San Manuel High School football stadium.

Editor's note: Copper Area News - San Manuel Miner congratulates Victoria and Genesis and their families for this top academic accomplishment. Due to COVID-19 interviews were conducted remotely via written replies.

This report contains important information about your drinking water. Este informe contiene información importante sobre su agua potable. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Arizona Water Company provides groundwater to its Oracle and SaddleBrooke Ranch customers from wells located near Oracle Junction and in SaddleBrooke Ranch.

All water samples are collected by state-certified employees of Arizona Water Company or by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality ("ADEQ"). Samples are analyzed by state-certified independent laboratories and the results are forwarded to ADEQ. The following report provides detailed information about the quality of the water delivered to customers. The water supplied by Arizona Water Company complies with all state and federal safe drinking water standards and regulations.

Your drinking water complies with the United States Environmental Protection Agency's ("USEPA") safe drinking water standard for arsenic, though it contains low levels of arsenic. USEPA's safe drinking water standard balances the current understanding of arsenic's possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

Note: In addition to the constituents listed in this report, Arizona Water Company and ADEQ conducted monitoring for over 80 additional constituents and the results show none of those constituents were detected in the water. Data presented are from the most recent testing done in accordance with applicable regulations. Some constituents are monitored less frequently than once a year because either their concentrations do not change frequently or they are not likely to be detected. Therefore, some of the water quality testing data contained herein, although representative, may be more than one year old. If you have questions about this water quality report, please contact Regina Lynde, Environmental Compliance Manager, Arizona Water Company, P. O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com.

In 2003, ADEQ completed a Source Water Assessment of the water sources used by Arizona Water Company's Oracle water system. ADEQ reviewed the adjacent land uses that may pose a potential risk to the water sources. The result of the Assessment was a low risk to the water sources.

The complete Assessment is available for inspection at ADEQ, 1110 West Washington Street, Phoenix, Arizona 85007, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Electronic copies are available from ADEQ at recordscenter@azdeq.gov. For more information, visit ADEQ's Source Water Assessment and Protection Unit website at: www.azdeq.gov/node/735.

The USEPA and ADEQ require Arizona Water Company to provide the following information:

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. The presence of constituents does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about constituents and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the USEPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to constituents in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. USEPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial constituents are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radiological material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Constituents that may be present in source water include:

- Microbials, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganics, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.
- Organics, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production. They can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
- Radiological material, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, USEPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain constituents in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for constituents in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Arizona Water Company is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the USEPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/lead>.

DEFINITIONS, ABBREVIATIONS, AND UNIT DESCRIPTIONS:

- Level = United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- CDC = United States Food and Drug Administration
- FDA = Maximum Contaminant Level, the highest level of a constituent that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs using the best available treatment technology as is economically and technologically feasible.

- MCLG = Maximum Residual Disinfection Level, the highest level of a drinking water disinfectant that is allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
- MRDL = Maximum Residual Disinfection Level Goal, the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial constituents.

Then your guests are provided with the latest paranormal equipment and with AZ Ghost Tours leading, participate in every aspect of the investigation. The paranormal equipment is provided by AZ Ghost Tours and all proceeds go to the organization for restoration and upkeep of the buildings.

Vinnie Amico founded AZPIRS along with his wife Pam. Vinnie has over 40 years' experience as a paranormal researcher. He is originally from New Jersey where he started out investigating old abandoned buildings. Over the years in New Jersey "I investigated some wonderful locations that were torn down to make way for a strip mall or parking lot" said Vinnie. "These historic places need to be preserved." In 2008, Vinnie moved to Arizona and began looking for people like those in New Jersey that he worked with that wanted to learn more about the paranormal and who wanted to help others with paranormal situations that had nowhere else to turn to.

AZPIRS also provides another service. If your business or residence has been experiencing unusual or what could be considered paranormal activity, they will investigate and seek to provide answers to the property owners. All investigations are free of charge and confidential. Their operations are based in the Phoenix area but they will travel to all areas of Arizona. AZPIRS strives to find answers for the people that need their help and provide clarification and direction for them to follow.

Vinnie and his team take their paranormal research and investigations seriously. "Every one of our team have had personal experiences with the paranormal. We understand it because we lived it." "I am a paranormal researcher not a ghost hunter." They are a well-organized and very professional group. Their tours are helping to preserve history!

First Things First honors Coolidge library assistant as its Champion for Young Children

COPPER CORRIDOR(May 14, 2021) – First Things First recognizes Danielle Duran, as the 2021 First Things First Pinal Region

Champion for Young Children.

The award is given to local champions who actively volunteer their time to raise public awareness of the importance of early childhood development and health. Champions spend a significant amount of time volunteering with Arizona's early childhood agency, First Things First (FTF), and building public awareness about the importance of early childhood issues.

Duran, known in the community as Miss Dani, is a library assistant at the Coolidge Public Library and has volunteered with FTF to raise awareness of the importance of early childhood education in the community. She will be recognized at the May FTF Pinal Regional Council meeting.

A lifelong Coolidge resident, Duran's dedication to her community is obvious.

"I'm severely invested in this town," she said. "'Growing up in this town, you really see and know what's going on in the community and what kids have to deal with. I want to help it be the best that it can be in any way I can."

Duran's dedication is evident in the creativity, enthusiasm and love she brings to her role at the Coolidge Public Library, where she runs a variety of programs, including Story Time, Tween Titans and is now in charge of teen programming as well. Additionally, Duran serves as the face of the Coolidge library at outreach events where she leads community members in engaging activities that help them connect to their library and learn how it can serve them.

As a Champion for early childhood, Duran doesn't see her role as serving families alone, she also actively works to grow community investment in supporting young children through helping to train others in ways to support early childhood efforts including a virtual story time where local leaders read to young children online.

Duran believes bringing that engagement in early childhood builds a legacy. She states that teaching young children how important they are to their community is an investment that will pay back when those children grow up. "When you build [these supports] and you build it young, it has a lasting impression," she said.

While supporting Coolidge Head Start and Minibears Preschool, Duran saw the positive impact that early childhood programs offered and understood that not all children have the access to benefit from them. She modeled her story time program to fill in some of those gaps for children.

Duran has sought to increase literacy tools for preschool-aged children, in addition to her collaboration with others, said Joyce

Baker, Coolidge Public Library manager.

“She found partners like the University of Arizona Cooperative Extension and First Things First to enhance services to families of preschoolers,” she said.

Duran’s story time, which is in partnership with FTF, helps to inform families of young children about resources available to them. Each week parents and caregivers learn about supportive local resources and feel empowered as their child’s first teacher, in addition to cultivating of love of reading and learning through stories and song.

Since the pandemic, Duran increased programming to meet the needs of families, balancing both safety and the importance of community engagement through online programming. Duran has collaborated with FTF to host Chicka Chicka Zoom Zoom, a multi-library online event where families pick-up free resource bags with activities and information to use during the library’s online story time. Additionally, she has been an important voice in planning the last two Week of the Young Child” programs, an annual event that celebrates the importance of connecting and educating young children.

Duran jokes that when she first started working for the library in 2010, her friends thought it was an ill-fit, saying, “you’re so loud and full of energy.”

Indeed, Duran’s excitement and energy fills a room, but she sees this as a perfect fit for the library.

“The library isn’t what people stereotypically think it is,” Duran said. “It’s a community hub where people grow and engage with one another.”

About First Things First — As Arizona’s early childhood agency, First Things First funds early learning, family support and children’s preventive health services to help kids be successful once they enter kindergarten. Decisions about how those funds are spent are made by local councils staffed by community volunteers. To learn more, visit FirstThingsFirst.org.

Copper Area News is committed to providing our readers with as much information as possible. This graph shows the positive cases as of press time on May 25, 2021. We have also included a graph showing the daily counts for the past week. Statewide, positive case counts have reduced dramatically, as the number of people vaccinated has increased. Case counts in the Copper Corridor are not increasing and have been holding steady.

New data reported this week is the number of residents who have been vaccinated per zip code. We will update that on a weekly basis. Vaccinations are now available to residents 12 and over in Pinal and Gila Counties.

The CDC has released new guidance that those who are vaccinated do not have to wear masks indoors or outdoors in public settings. There is some caution still advised if you are participating in large group activities.

There are a few points we would like our readers to consider when following this data.

1. This will continue to be a rolling total of positive cases. It does not reflect recoveries or deaths. The Arizona Department of Health Services does not break out this data.
2. If you see a reduction in numbers from day to day it is most likely due to a data entry error or mis-coding of a zip code (at the state level).
3. This is all zip code based data; most of our zip codes include unincorporated areas. There is no way to track exactly which areas each of the positive cases are. Example, Kearny and Winkelman each have small communities in their zip code that are not in the Town's incorporated boundaries.
4. If you live in Gila County, please follow the Gila County Health and Emergency Management, Facebook. They have maintained their data on recoveries and current positive cases.
5. You can follow other data such as ICU bed use, Ventilator use and hospital capacity online: <https://bit.ly/3inh280>

Gardening Tips and Tricks from Bunny

Here's an easy way to compost directly in your garden bed:

Save veggie scraps from cooking. I like to dice them up, which helps to get the decomposition going a bit quicker.

Then I dig a hole about 12" from plants and large enough to hold the scraps, cover with soil, water until damp and then cover with mulch. Every time I water I like to check the mini-composting hole to be sure it is damp.

More often than not, the underground mini-compost pile turns into a worm compost, attracting and feeding the worms already in my garden. The process is quicker than composting and feeds my veggie plants – no turning or moving required!

Happy Gardening!
